What to Expect

Yellowstone Forever Institute programs and facilities benefit from the hard work and generosity of volunteer program assistants. You will likely meet one, or more, of the program volunteers assisting your program. Program assistants receive professional training in Wilderness First Aid, emergency response, and bus driving. Additionally, they help with program logistics, cleaning and maintenance of facilities, and anything you might need during your time with us.

Your program payment includes lodging, tuition, meals, and transportation during your program. It does not include transportation to the park (new in 2022 there is a Bozeman airport shuttle available for an additional fee), park entrance fees, and instructor gratuities.

For specific class details, including an agenda, class-specific equipment, and a recommended reading list, see the course letter.

Facilities

Bunkhouse

The communal bunkhouse is open at all times and is the center of activity, where it houses two classrooms, a kitchen, and a bathroom. Make yourself at home in the bunkhouse by meeting new people, enjoying a midnight snack, and relaxing with classmates. The first classroom is used as a mudroom where coats and boots can be left by the door. Be sure to bring a pair of slippers or moccasins to wear in the bunkhouse. For more information on the kitchen, see Meals (page 6).

Please note that for winter 2022/23 all meals will be catered.

Bathroom

The ranch has a shared heated bathhouse complete with men's and women's bathrooms and private showers. There are no bathrooms in the individual cabins. The bathhouse is nearby the cabins and has paper towels and hand soap for your convenience. You will be provided a code for the bathhouse door per your arrival to the ranch.

Students will need to bring their own toiletries and bath towels.

Lodging

Yellowstone Forever Institute students in Field Seminars stay in our rustic lodging at the historic Lamar Buffalo Ranch as part of their class fee. During winter 2022/23 all participants will stay in a Private Single Cabin (cabin to yourself) unless otherwise requested (folks traveling together).

Each log cabin has three single beds, chairs, propane heaters, and reading lamps. Bring a sleeping bag, pillow, extra blankets if you like, a flashlight for getting around at night, and a non-electric alarm clock (cabins do not have outlets).

Stoves, lanterns, and candles cannot be used in or around the cabins, and smoking and food are not permitted in the cabins. Camping and pets (with the exception of service animals) are not allowed.

All lodging is available for check-in at 4:00 p.m. MST on the first evening and lodging check-out is at 10:00 a.m. MST on the final course date. On-site lodging is required for Lamar Buffalo Ranch courses, and dates are non-negotiable.

Meals

For winter 2022/23 all meals during your program are provided; this includes:

- Dinner the first night after check-in/orientation
- Breakfast, lunch, and dinner throughout the week
- Breakfast the morning of check-out

You are encouraged to bring snacks and there will be a place for you to store them in the community kitchen. Additionally, we can cater to most all food allergies/restrictions. Please note them in your registration.

Directions

Directions to Lamar Buffalo Ranch

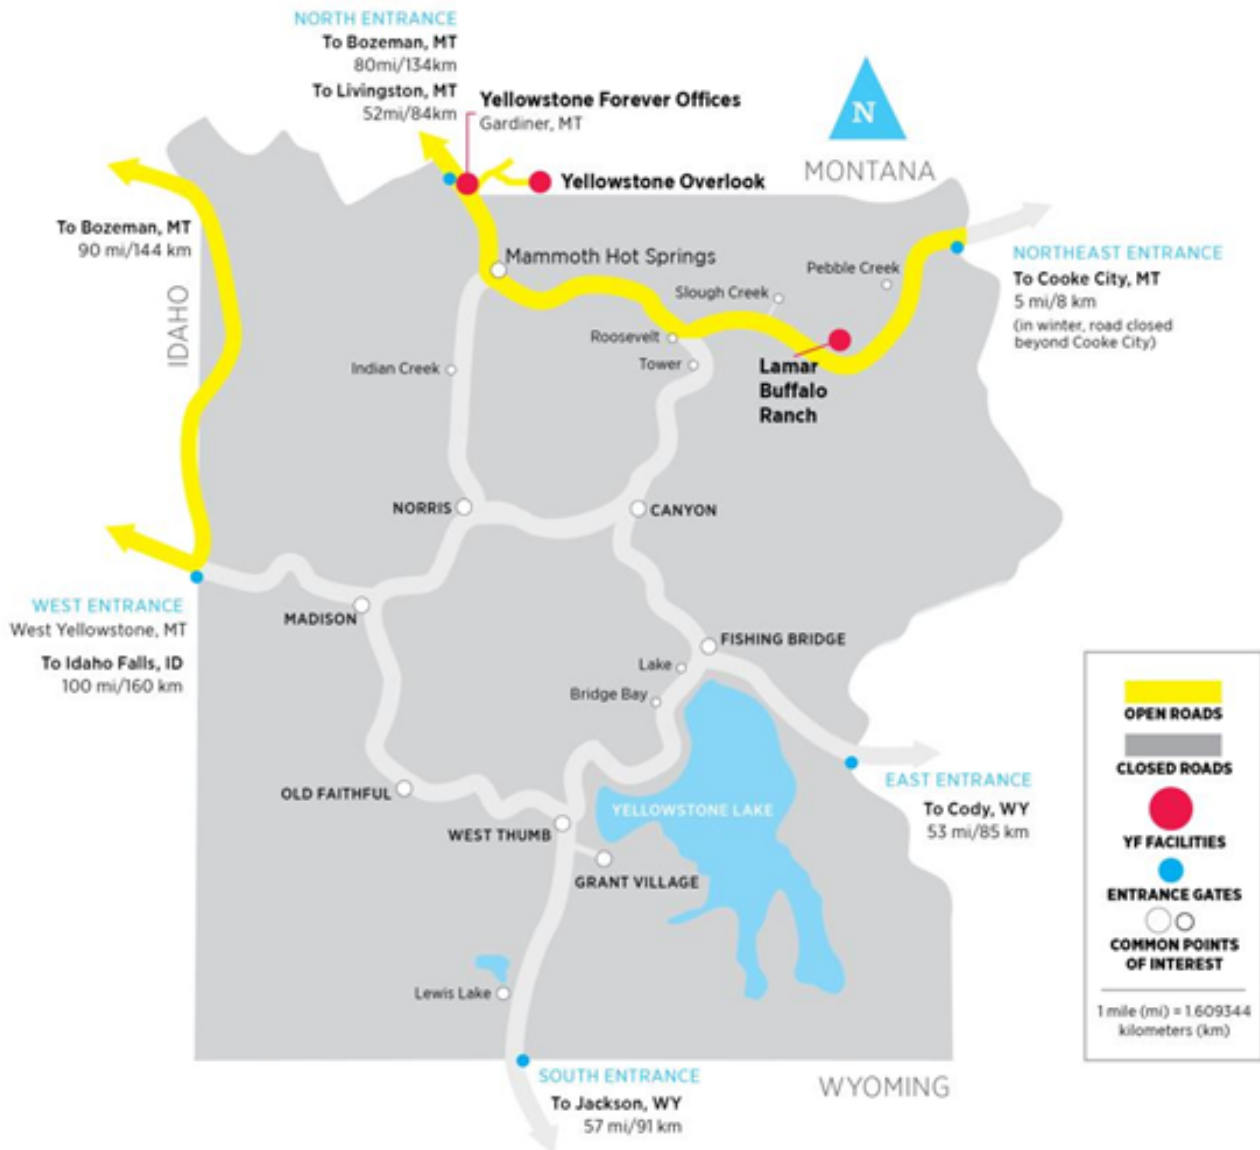

To access the Lamar Buffalo Ranch in winter there is only ONE entrance you can use to access the park. The ranch is approximately one hour from Gardiner, MT. To get to the ranch from Yellowstone Forever's office in Gardiner, MT (308 Park St, Gardiner MT 59030) see the directions below.

- Head south on US-89 through Gardiner for approximately 1 mile, headed towards the Roosevelt Arch.
- Before the Roosevelt Arch turn left onto S 3rd St. and take another left at the stop sign.
- Head to the North Entrance Yellowstone National Park entrance station. Once you have paid for your park permit, proceed into the park and drive 5.2 miles towards Mammoth Hot Springs.
- Once in Mammoth, at the first stop sign you come to, turn left and travel 18.1 miles to Tower Junction.
- At Tower Junction turn left and travel 10.5 miles until you reach the Lamar Buffalo Ranch, where you will proceed to turn left and park.

Prior to leaving always check park road conditions and closures at <https://www.nps.gov/yell/planyourvisit/conditions.htm> or call 307-344-2117 for recorded information.

Park Map

Yellowstone Winter Map YELLOWSTONE FOREVER

The only road open to wheeled vehicles in the winter (early November to mid-April) is the road from the North Entrance to the Northeast Entrance. Because Cooke Pass is closed to wheeled vehicles, it is not possible to enter or exit Yellowstone National Park through the Northeast Entrance. You must enter the park through Gardiner, Montana. Current road conditions are available through the NPS Road Report at 307.344.2117.

Fitness Levels

How fit do you need to be?

Each course is classified in difficulty with a 1 to 5 rating.

Level 1: Be prepared to hike up to 1 mile per day through relatively flat terrain on maintained or snow-packed trails.

Level 2: Be prepared to hike on snow-packed trails, or snowshoe or ski trips, up to 3 miles per day with climbs up to 250 feet.

Level 3: Be prepared for brisk hiking, snowshoeing, or skiing up to 5 miles per day with climbs up to 500 feet, including some trail-breaking in snow.

Level 4: Be prepared for brisk aerobic snowshoeing or skiing up to 8 miles per day with climbs up to 1,000 feet; or steep, rugged, off-trail skiing or snowshoeing—including breaking trail in variable snow conditions. Good coordination is required.

Level 5: Be prepared for brisk aerobic snowshoeing or skiing up to 12 miles per day with climbs up to 1,500 feet; or steep, rugged, off-trail skiing or snowshoeing—including breaking trail in variable snow conditions. Good coordination is required.

All field activities will be conducted as a group. If you cannot meet the activity level expectations during your program, you may be restricted from participation in daily outings. We will not alter program itineraries or activities to accommodate participants who cannot meet the expectations of the stated activity level.

To see the difficulty level and fitness expectations for a particular course, see that class's course letter and registration page. We recommend you begin an exercise program right away if you have not already done so. Participants residing at lower elevations may want to arrive a day early to adjust to the altitude. Clothing & Equipment List

Suggested Packing List

Below are suggested items to bring to all Field Seminar Programs. For equipment and clothing specific to a course, please see the corresponding course letter. Additionally, Yellowstone Forever field staff assigned to your program will carry a first aid kit, bear spray, and emergency communication device.

Equipment

- Mask, NPS is consistently adapting it's Covid-19 protocols. To ensure we are following NPS Covid-19 protocols please bring a mask as it MAY be required during some or all of your program.
- Hand Sanitizer
- Daypack, with enough capacity to carry extra clothes, water, lunch, camera, binoculars, etc.
- Water bottle
- Sunglasses
- Lip protector, chapstick
- Journal and pen
- Optics, camera and binoculars

Clothing

- Insulating underwear, capilene, polypropylene, wool, or similar wicking fabric
- Midweight insulating layer, a light synthetic fleece or wool shirt/pullover
- Heavyweight insulating layer, wool, down, or heavy-weight fleece jacket
- Waterproof and windproof outer layer, lightweight and breathable, jackets and pants
- Pants, wool, fleece pants are preferred, no cotton
- Hat, an insulating hat that covers ears
- Gloves, lightweight glove liners and a pair of wool/fleece gloves or mittens – waterproof/windproof outer layer is recommended
- Socks, lightweight liner with heavyweight synthetic or wool socks
- Gaiters, knee-high to keep snow out of your boots
- Insulated boots should have water repellent layers outside, thick insulation inside, and be large enough to fit over thick socks. Soles with proper traction or traction devices (i.e. Yaktrax) are essential for icy conditions.

The historic ranch runs on limited solar power with backup generators. For this reason, please do not bring electrical appliances such as radios, hairdryers, and crock pots as these items overload the system and can cause black-outs.

Cancellation Policy

PLEASE READ THIS POLICY BEFORE REGISTERING FOR YOUR PROGRAM

Once you register for a program, your registration is subject to the following cancellation policy.

If you cancel:

- 90 days or more prior to the start of your program, 100% of your payment will be refunded minus a $50 per person processing fee.
- 60 days or more prior to the start of your program, 50% of your payment will be refunded minus a $50 per person processing fee.
- 30 days or more prior to the start of your program, 25% of your payment will be refunded minus a $50 per person processing fee.
- If you cancel with fewer than 30 days before the start of your program, your full payment will be forfeited.

To guard against unexpected circumstances, we strongly advise you to purchase travel insurance to protect against loss should you have to cancel your registration.

All programs are subject to change due to unforeseen circumstances.

Covid-19 Health & Safety

Yellowstone Forever continues to adopt appropriate sanitization measures as prescribed by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). We are in frequent contact with local authorities and partners such as county health departments and the National Park Service to continually monitor the situation on a regional level. We continue to closely monitor government policy changes, CDC guidelines, government mandates, and public health advancements and will continue to make changes as necessary and appropriate to operations.

For the most current information, please visit our website:

<https://www.yellowstone.org/covid-19-health-safety/> for up-to-date protocols and information.

COVID-19 Guidelines For Program Participants (as of 8/22):

- Program participants should stay home if they are experiencing any COVID-19 symptoms as listed by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) or have been a close contact to someone who has tested positive for COVID-19 in the last 14 days. Anyone displaying common symptoms of COVID-19 will not be permitted on the program.
- At this time, face masks or coverings are not required for participants in all indoor spaces and outdoor spaces. Masks use on buses is dependent on the current Covid-19 community levels.
- If a surrounding community is at:
 - HIGH: Masks are required for everyone indoors, regardless of vaccination status. Indoor areas include, but are not limited to, park visitor centers, administrative offices, lodges, gift shops, and restaurants.
 - MEDIUM and LOW: Masks are optional indoors.
- Participants are encouraged to bring their own mask(s). They can be either cloth masks, disposable procedure masks, or respirators (i.e. N95s).
- Only the program instructors are permitted to serve lunch, snacks, and drinks to participants.
- Each vehicle will be disinfected before and after each trip.
- Spotting scopes and binoculars will be disinfected between programs.

These guidelines have been updated as of summer 2022 and are subject to change at anytime.

Code of Ethics

The Yellowstone Forever Institute is committed to demonstrating a high standard of appropriate and ethical behavior in Yellowstone. As a participant in a Yellowstone Forever Institute program, we ask you to adhere to the following Code of Ethics. In addition to the ethics highlighted below, the Yellowstone Forever Institute abides by all National Park Service rules and regulations. We also practice Leave No Trace guidelines for traveling responsibly in the wilderness.

Observing Wildlife

We will do our best to have as little impact on wildlife as possible. Animals will be observed from a distance, using high-powered spotting scopes to help keep our presence from affecting their behavior. Participants should not expect to get close-up photographs of wildlife. The Yellowstone Forever Institute will adhere to National Park Service regulations by keeping a minimum distance of 25 yards from bison, elk, bighorn sheep, deer, moose, coyotes, and nesting birds and 100 yards from bears and wolves. We will not entice wildlife with food, animal calls, or any actions that change their behavior.

Code of Ethics

Leave What You Find

It is illegal to remove natural or cultural artifacts (plants, animals, bones, rocks, etc.) from Yellowstone. Yellowstone Forever Institute instructors have permission from the National Park Service to manipulate plants, rocks, bones, etc. for educational purposes and will return them to their natural positions and locations.

Code of Ethics

General Etiquette

Yellowstone Forever Institute groups will be considerate of other visitors and respect the quality of their experience. Voices and vehicle sounds carry great distances and affect both wildlife and people—remaining silent or very quiet while watching wildlife lets the sounds of Yellowstone (including wolf howls) prevail.

Roads and Vehicles

Expect wildlife on the road, and drive at or below the posted park speed limits. When stopping to observe wildlife or other park features, the Yellowstone Forever Institute will move vehicles entirely off the road. If there is no safe pullout available, we will drive to the next safe place and walk back to observe the wildlife. We will not stop in the middle of the road, and should a traffic jam develop as a result of our activities, we will cease the activity.

Code of Ethics

Properly Dispose of Waste

We will pack out all trash, leftover food, and litter. Your instructor will discuss techniques for properly disposing of human waste in the field.

Traveling Lightly

When hiking or walking in Yellowstone, we will use existing trails and boardwalks. We will follow appropriate techniques when walking off-trail. Walking around muddy or wet places in the trail increases erosion and negatively affects the resource; proper equipment is essential to hiking ethically. Participants should come adequately prepared with the equipment listed for their program and should expect to walk through mud, snow, or puddles in the trail.
